“ Allen, you made me want to go to law school. Thanks for your genuine interest and conversation with this former starbucks barista. I thought about you today and googled your name. I am sad to see you have passed. I know you were having difficulties in your final years, but I will always remember you as a brilliant, charismatic, and charming individual. RIP.

“ Dad, I love you so much... I wish you were here because you were the smartest person in the world. I miss you.

“ Allen was always such an upbeat person in our class at De Queen (Arkansas) high school. I wished he would have had that unicycle back then, he would have kept us entertained for hours. I can just see him riding in the parades we had back then. He'll be remembered for his talent on a guitar, his voice, his charm, his wit and sense of humor. In our 1965 or 1966 yearbooks he was in the handsomes for his good looks. We'll miss at our class reunions.
