“ We went over to their home and we was doing landscaping and elo was digging a whole on one of the plants in front of the house and she was digging it wrong and of course Ben was like what are you doing you are supposed to dig out not in into the roots so I stop getting the weeds out of the rocks because that’s what we was doing but then elo gets up and starts digging out this whole on one of the plants right but she was asking if that was the way it was supposed to be done as she was digging into the roots so Ben was you are supposed to be digging away from them not digging towards the roots but you all know how Ben talks okay so I stop pulling weeds and moving rocks around and go help her dig right and then Ben is like she is getting ready to stop digging and go do something else so him and Tony was just messing with her and sure enough she stopped digging and was already watering his grass but Ben knew before she stopped and started something else he already knew before she did because Ben and Elo are that connected and that is how strong they love each other still till this day even if he is not physically here he still loves her and she loves him.
