“ I have many memories with my sister. She was very smart and full of happiness. She loved dancing and she always kept up with herself. Always looking beautiful. One think she always said was that she never wanted to be fat. So she always carried her weighing scale with her every where she went. If 5 pounds she gain 5 pounds she lost. She will be missed but I know she's in a better place now without pain and with Mom, Dad and my youngest brother. Love you sis 💔
