“ My father taught us to love the Lord with all our hearts. He not only taught to love God but he LIVED it everyday. He will always be in my heart.

“ I don't know if my other siblings feel the same way but Enrique was more than a big brother, he was like a second Dad. He was the glue that kept our family together before my Dad found Jesus. He carried a burden he shouldn't have had to but he did it for the love of family. I grew up having great Love and Respect for him and will forever be grateful to him and my brother Juanito who has also gone to his reward in heaven for introducing our family to Jesus! What I remember most during his latter years was how he always carried a small pad of paper with scriptures in his shirt pocket - always ready to share the Word. We will miss him but rejoice in knowing he is with his Lord and Savior. No more pain and no more suffering!❤️
