He leaves behind two daughters, Veronica Mendoza (Leonel Mendoza) and Velma Eliza Flores from Edinburg, Texas as well as an abundance of nieces and nephews.

Those who knew Noe Flores would say that he was a humble and hardworking man who was always willing to lend a helping hand wherever the need was. He loved to crack jokes and had plenty of humor, but he could also tell it to you like it was. He instilled in his daughters the value of hard work and the need to get educated because he was of the belief that no one could take your education away from you. One of his favorite things to do was to go the Bingo Hall and play bingo where many knew him as "El Borrado" because of the color of his eyes which were sometimes green or blue depending on what color he was wearing. He will be truly missed by all who knew him.
